Message from Chairman Kalyan Bharti Trust

Heritage Group of Institutions stands on the threshold of its 25th year, a journey defined by excellence and remarkable achievements. I take immense pride in congratulating my fellow Trustee, Shri Sajjan Bhajanka, on being honoured with the prestigious Padma Shri this year.

Reflecting on our milestones, I recall the moment when Shri P. R. Agarwala, another esteemed Trustee, received the same honour prestigious Padma Shri during our 20th-year celebration. These personal achievements, intertwined with institutional landmarks, fill me with immense pride.

The Heritage School continues to excel, earning the title of the Best Co-Ed Day Boarding School in West Bengal and securing the 10th position nationally, as ranked by Education World. Hosting the 60th National Chess Championship and a successful International Debate Competition reaffirms its commitment to holistic education and student development.

The students of Heritage Institute of Technology are making their mark in national hackathons, showcasing exceptional problem-solving skills. Our recent collaboration with Ultratech to foster innovation in civil construction marks another significant step toward excellence.

A meditation session led by revered Daaji, attended by over 800 participants, was a truly serene and inspiring experience. I encourage our faculty, staff and students to embrace our culture of heartfulness.

And my end note for this issue from Madeleine Albright:

“I was taught to strive not because there were any guarantees of success but because the act of striving is in itself the only way to keep faith with life.”
