What I Have Written, I Have Written

Education is the manifestation of the perfection already in man
Swami Vivekananda

Dear members of the Heritage Family,

Victor Hugo once wrote, "There is nothing like a dream to create the future." These words capture the essence of our journey – for every great institution begins not with buildings or budgets, but with a vision bold enough to transform lives.

On 25th June, 2025, we celebrated a defining moment as we stepped into our 25th year of unwavering commitment to excellence in education. What started as a dream within the Kalyan Bharti Trust has grown into something remarkable – a community where aspirations find their wings.

Today, Heritage stands as more than an institution. We are a destination where young minds discover their potential, where dreams meet opportunity, and where the future takes shape daily in our classrooms, laboratories, and corridors.

This milestone belongs to everyone who believed in our vision. To our founding Trustees, whose courage lit the path forward. To our faculty, who transform knowledge into wisdom. To our students, who bring purpose to everything we do. And to every member of our extended Heritage family, whose faith has carried us through challenges and triumphs alike.

How do we honour such a moment? Not merely by looking back at what we've built, but by reimagining what we can become. This anniversary calls us to showcase our achievements while charting new territories of possibility.

As we stand at this threshold, I invite each of you to join me in approaching the future with open minds that embrace innovation, open hearts that welcome every learner, and open hands that build bridges to tomorrow.

Together, we have proven that dreams, when nurtured with dedication, become the foundation for something enduring. Together, we will continue writing the next chapter of our story.

Here's to stepping into our 25th year of nurturing excellence, and to the countless possibilities that lie ahead.

With deep gratitude and excitement for our journey forward.

NISAR MISSION'S HISTORIC LAUNCH

Kolkata, August 2, 2025 – NASA and ISRO's joint NISAR (NASA-ISRO Synthetic Aperture Radar) Earth observation satellite has lifted off in a landmark mission, and Kolkata-born scientist Subhradip Ghosh played a pivotal role in its success. NISAR will measure Earth's changing ecosystems and dynamic surfaces – from melting ice sheets to vegetation changes – providing critical data on biomass, sea-level rise and natural hazards. Launched on July 30, 2025 from India's Satish Dhawan Space Centre, NISAR carries advanced L- and S-band radars and represents the first-ever joint hardware collaboration between ISRO and NASA.

LANDMARK NASA-ISRO NISAR EARTH-OBSERVING MISSION

The 3-stage Geosynchronous Satellite Launch Vehicle Mk II (GSLV Mk II) rocket – a 52-meter tall launch vehicle – carried the NISAR spacecraft into orbit. This state-of-the-art Earth-monitoring satellite is one of the most advanced ever developed, carrying dual payloads built by ISRO and NASA. Its sophisticated radar will map surface changes, cloud-penetrating to see through storms, and help monitor critical infrastructure worldwide. The mission will return data on ice sheet dynamics, deforestation, groundwater changes and more – a leap forward for global science and disaster preparedness.

SUBHRADIP GHOSH'S CRITICAL PROPULSION ROLE

ISRO's Systems Reliability Division at Sriharikota entrusted Subhradip Ghosh – an ISRO Scientist/Engineer with six years of experience – with the crucial liquid propulsion system of the NISAR launch vehicle. As the launch vehicle's liquid-propulsion engineer, he oversaw the integration and handling of the rocket's fuel system. Ghosh's responsibilities included managing the rocket's liquid propellants, ensuring exact fuel loading and monitoring, and running 24x7 monitoring of the fuel systems. His steady leadership in these critical phases helped power the NISAR mission into a successful lift-off.

GRADUATION CEREMONY 2025

THE HERITAGE LAW COLLEGE

The Heritage Law College hosted with much enthusiasm the Graduation Ceremony for the Batch of 2025 on 1st September 2025, marking a milestone moment in the academic journey of its graduating students. The event was a joyful celebration of achievement, reflection, and new beginnings.

The ceremony radiated an atmosphere of joy and nostalgia as graduates stepped forward to receive their degrees, symbolizing years of dedication, perseverance, and growth. Faculty members, mentors, and parents joined in the celebration, applauding the accomplishments of the students and their readiness to enter the world of law with purpose and integrity.

Heritage Group of Institutions, Kolkata, celebrated International Yoga Day 2025 with great enthusiasm, aligning with this year's global theme "Yoga for One Earth, One Health." Faculty, staff, and students gathered at the campus for a mass yoga session led by trained instructors, practicing the Common Yoga Protocol that highlighted asanas, pranayama, and meditation. The serene atmosphere of the Heritage campus created the perfect setting to experience the harmony of body, mind, and spirit, while reaffirming yoga's role in maintaining physical fitness and mental balance.

In keeping with the spirit of the theme, the celebration also emphasized felicitation of the students of The Heritage School, Aditri De and Anaanya Sengupta who had won laurels in the NCERT & CISCE National Yoga Olympiads 2025. The event not only strengthened the bond of the Heritage community but also reminded everyone that yoga is more than a practice—it is a way of life that nurtures both humanity and Mother Earth.

A transformative STEM workshop titled “Technological Solutions to Disasters Using STEM Kits” was conducted on May 14, 2025, at PACE Learning Center, Gaurdaha, West Bengal. The initiative aimed to empower underserved girls—many from vulnerable communities—with scientific thinking and practical problem-solving skills through hands-on learning.

Prof. Mousiki Kar, Associate Professor, Department of Electronics & Communication Engineering, Heritage Institute of Technology, led the session, supported by five dedicated IEEE ECE student volunteers. The workshop was attended by 28 students (Classes 8–12) and 9 teachers.

Participants explored real-world applications of STEM tools to address disasters like earthquakes, floods, gas leaks, and fire hazards. Six model systems were introduced, including:

- Earthquake & Flood Warning Systems
- Gas Leakage Detection

- Moisture Sensor Systems
- Solar & Automatic Street Lights

The highlight of the session was the hands-on building of two working models—a Flood Alert System and a Gas Leakage Detector—using sensors, buzzers, and voltage regulators.

Students also learned to use AI-powered tools like ChatGPT for learning support. A post-session evaluation confirmed high engagement and understanding.

Vice Principal Ms. Mahashweta Maity and President Rtn. Mr. Jayanta Chatterjee lauded the initiative and expressed strong interest in long-term collaborations to develop a technology-integrated curriculum for the center.
